

History of The South Side Sportsman's Club of Long Island

Keith Snedecor presents Snedecor's Inn Through The Years - a 13th generation Long Islander and family member's account of the Inn's captivating history. From his great, great, great, great grandfather Eliphalet's responsibility in establishing Snedecor's Inn during the mid-nineteenth century, to the Inn's function as a famous stagecoach stop; Keith will discuss the evolution of this property from the Snedecor's Inn to the South Side Sportsman's Club and finally serving as Connetquot River State Park Preserve.

The South Side Sportsmen's Club was "... established for the protection of game birds and fish ..." and chartered in 1866. SSSC club members were responsible for the creation of Ducks Unlimited - a nonprofit organization established in 1937 to preserve wetlands, grass, and associated habitats to benefit waterfowl. Join us and welcome Keith as he regales us with these storied grounds' long journey to what they are today!
