

Long Island Sport Fishing

A regular contributor to On the Water Magazine, The Fisherman Magazine, and other publications - Mike Dean has been an avid and obsessed angler for over 15 years. An opportunity arose a few years ago to pen monthly fishing reports for Long Island Boating World. Now, he is excited about sharing his passion with other anglers - and us!

Focusing on the most popular species targeted in Long Island waters; his lecture is to include tips, techniques, and the best part of the fishing season for each and every species. By boat and shore, he targets all local species; from fluke, blue fish, sea bass, porgies and false albacore, to tuna and even sharks. His favorite fish to chase? Striped bass. Join us in welcoming his expertise to our winter series!

Sunday, March 24, 2024

Light Refreshments: 12:30 - 1:00 pm

Lecture: 1:00 - 2:00 pm

Reservations required, please call LIMM to reserve your seat!

Long Island Maritime Museum
88 West Avenue, West Sayville, NY 11796

